Source: Martin Currie. The NAV basis used is cum-income in £. Please note prior to July 2017 the NAV basis used was ex-income NAV in £. Ex-income NAVs exclude current-year income, while cum-income NAVs include current-year income. These figures do not include the cost of buying and selling shares in an investment trust. If these were included, performance figures would be reduced.

Prior to 1 February 2020 the Trust's benchmark was the FTSE World index and the MSCI All Country World Index (ACWI) thereafter.

MANAGER COMMENTARY

In March, Tencent, the Chinese internet platform benefited from a resumption in new games licensing after an 8-month freeze, and news that the Chinese regulator is meeting technology firms. Indicating a more supportive regulatory backdrop, the regulator is seeking to introduce specific measures to promote the healthy development of the platform economy. Linde, the industrial gases firm was also positive as its first quarter 2022 results were better than market expectation, benefiting from a recent price increase. In addition, Linde's management raised its full year 2022 earnings guidance. Also positive was during the month was Kerry Group, the Irish food and nutrition firm after announcing positive results.

Computer systems designer, Nvidia was the largest detractor, the stock was primarily impacted by sell-off of growth stocks in April. In addition, the market has some shorter-term concerns over Nvidia's gaming business. The company did have its Capital Markets Day at the end of last month, announcing a new generation of graphic processing unit with a significant increase in performance than the company's previous offerings. ResMed, the sleep and breathing disorder medical technology company, reported supply chain issues that meant its third quarter results came in short of market expectations. Also in the healthcare space, Masimo the US medical devices firm detracted during April. Supply chain and logistical issues impacted first quarter revenues, although the firm has maintained its guidance for the remainder of the year. The acquisition of Sound United that negatively impacted the firm's share price earlier in 2022 completed. Masimo's management believe this acquisition will open a large new market in the growing consumer health and wellness space.

During the month we sold Taiwan semiconductor manufacturer TSMC, and opened a new position in Dutch semiconductor equipment firm ASML. We believe that ASML is positioned to benefit from the trend for companies onshoring semiconductor production sites with new factories being constructed in the USA, with Japan and Europe to follow.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

This information is issued and approved by Martin Currie Investment Management Limited. It does not constitute investment advice. Market and currency movements may cause the capital value of shares, and the income from them, to fall as well as rise and you may get back less than you invested. Please note that, as the shares in investment trusts are traded on a stockmarket, the share price will fluctuate in accordance with supply and demand and may not reflect the value of underlying net asset value of the shares.

Depending on market conditions and market sentiment, the spread between purchase and sale price can be wide. As with all stock exchange investments the value of investment trust share purchases will immediately fall by the difference between the buying and selling prices, the bid-offer spread. The value of investments and the income from them may go down as well as up and is not guaranteed. An investor may not get back the amount originally invested.

Investment trusts may borrow money in order to make further investments. This is known as 'gearing' and can enhance shareholder returns in rising markets but, conversely, can reduce them in falling markets.

The majority of charges will be deducted from the capital of the Company. This will constrain capital growth of the Company in order to maintain the income streams.

Morningstar Rating for Funds

Morningstar rates funds from one to five stars based on how well they've performed (after adjusting for risk) in comparison to similar funds. Within each Morningstar Category, the top 10% of funds receive five stars, the next 22.5% four stars, the middle 35% three stars, the next 22.5% two stars, and the bottom 10% receive one star. Funds are rated for up to three time periods—three-, five-, and 10 years—and these ratings are combined to produce an overall rating. Funds with less than three years of history are not rated. Ratings are objective, based entirely on a mathematical evaluation of past performance. They're a useful tool for identifying funds worthy of further research, but shouldn't be considered buy or sell recommendations.
